

HOW TO ASK YOUR LIBRARY FOR MY BOOK!

Hi friends,

As you know (because I haven't stopped talking about it), For Maria is out. Here's a tiny favour that helps more than you'd think: ask your local library to buy a copy. Libraries really do listen to what their members ask for, whether you're in Toronto, Kingston, Halifax, Vancouver, Regina, Dawson City or anywhere in between.

FIND THE FORM

On your library's website, search "suggest a purchase" (sometimes it's "request a title"). Can't find it? Just ask at the desk. Librarians love this stuff.

FILL IN THE DETAILS

Everything you need is in the box. If it asks which format, go with the paperback.

PUT A HOLD ON IT

Once it turns up in the catalogue, place a hold. Holds tell the library people actually want it.

TELL A FRIEND

Know someone in Canada who loves a good mystery? Send this their way.

IF IT ASKS WHY

"I'd like to read it and share it with my book club" is perfect. Once is plenty, so no need to send it twice.

Thank you. Truly. It means the world.

LENORE •

No librarians were harmed in the making of this request.

FOR MARIA · A CORK BAY MYSTERY

COPY THIS INTO THE FORM

TITLE

For Maria: A Cork Bay Mystery

AUTHOR

Lenore MacAdam

PUBLISHER

FriesenPress, 2026

PAPERBACK ISBN

978-1-03-837963-4

CATEGORY

Fiction, mystery

Also out in hardcover (978-1-03-837964-1) and ebook (978-1-03-837965-8).

NO PRESSURE

Libraries make their own calls and some are slower than others. Even if they don't buy it right away, your request plants the seed.

LENOREMACADAM.COM
hello@lenoremacadam.com

EBOOK AND PRINT AVAILABLE NOW

LM •